

GLOBALISM THREAT ACTION GUIDE

Vision: Our vision is to provide a weekly, step-by-step guide to help people prepare before a given threat becomes a reality. We encourage you to print and keep a collection of these weekly guides and website information. We also suggest you keep your collection in a notebook in case there is a loss of the internet and power at the very time you need these guides.

We believe as you consider these guidelines and prepare, you will gain the knowledge and skills to adapt to the anticipated threats. These guides may not address every contingency but, being prepared for threats and disasters in general helps individuals gain the peace of mind that they have done what they can do to enhance their chances for safety, survival, and the well-being of their communities. This resource and comprehensive approach fosters resilience and prosperity in challenging times when many others may be caught off guard.

Examples of the Primary Issues of the Free Action Guide:

- Political Issues
- Economic Downturns
- Socialism and Loss of Freedoms
- Expanded Military Operations
- Religious Freedoms
- Free Enterprise Dying

UNDERSTANDING GLOBALISM

Definition: Globalism refers to the political, economic, and social processes that promote the integration of countries and cultures which can weaken a countries military.

Key Features: Globalism can be supported by Trade Agreements, multinational corporations, international organizations, and cultural exchanges. Pay close attention to Black projects by the government and the activities of The Military Industrial Complex - which main function is to encourage trade and war for the benefit of the sales of arms and military supplies amongst its members.

Navigating the complexities of globalism requires a proactive approach centered around community, education, and political engagement. By focusing on local empowerment and fostering resilience, individuals and communities can thrive amidst the challenges posed by a globalized world. A local government is more attuned to the local needs and is more accountable to its citizens. Localized government encourages the development of local recourses and those sales to directly benefit the hands that labored for them.

Expert Content: Expert Pastor Billy Crone shares his understanding of Globalism in this episode of the Worldwide Threat. Pastor Crone explains the relationship of Klaus Schwab and globalism. Schwab gains his inspiration from Hitler for his Fourth Industrial Revolution enterprise, the Club of Rome, the 1971 World Economic Forum, and the North America Union initiatives that include a cashless society with biometrics implants.

POLITICAL ISSUES

Topic One

Participate in Local Governance: To combat globalism it is important to engage politically both locally and nationally. To not participate politically is to risk your personal freedoms to be managed by those without a personal interest in your area or country. But rather by a global agenda to put the power of choice in the hands of an elite power group. Therefore, it is imperative to attend town halls, join local boards, and engage with representatives to voice concerns about globalism.

Advocate for Policies: Support policies that protect local industries and advocate for fair trade agreements that benefit the U.S

Notes

ECONOMIC DOWNTURNS

Topic Two

Support Local Economies

Buy Local: Prioritize purchasing from local businesses to strengthen the local economy and reduce reliance on global supply chains.

Promote Local Products: Advocate for local artisans, farmers, and manufacturers to sustain community employment and identity.

Find a Good Job or Start an Online Business Key Concepts: Securing stable employment or creating opportunities that align with survival skills and community-based needs help a local district and a nation keep job opportunities and revenues at home.

Notes

FREEDOMS LOSS

Topic Three

Get Involved in Civic Engagement

Voting: Exercise your right to vote, focusing on candidates who prioritize national interests and local control over globalist policies.

Advocacy Groups: Join or support organizations that align with your views on national sovereignty and localism.

Practical Tips: Foster friendships through regular gatherings, participate in local clubs or groups, and use social media platforms to connect with others who share similar political and national survival interests.

Notes

MANDATES AND MILITARY CONTROL OF CITIZENS

Topic Four

Watch for issues that can turn into martial law and shutdowns and advocate against them becoming disproportionate.

One example would be the prolonged and non-voluntary Covid -19 mandates. While national health issues must be managed, non-voluntary mandates present an opportunity for the control of the population beyond the immediate threat. National responsibility and restrictions must be respected during a crisis with the goal of restoring personal freedoms as soon as possible. Any prolonged containment and control of the population is fertile ground for martial law and/or globalism to take root.

Notes

MAINTAIN SOCIAL AND RELIGIOUS FREEDOM GROUPS

Topic Five

Strengthen Community Bonds by Building Networks: Create or join community groups and churches that share interests in local culture, business, and national identity.

Cultural Events: Organize and participate in local festivals, ministry opportunities, and events that promote service to others within the community and the country.

Notes

GLOBALISM SUPPRESSES FREE ENTERPRISE

Topic Six

Key Concepts: Free Enterprise relies on citizens investing in the education and skills to maintain job market flexibility. Remain open to new ideas and methods for job survival and prosperity that develops local industry while it balances the globally driven economy that would seek to monopolize local assets.

Lifelong Learning: Encourage continuous education and skills development to adapt to changing job markets influenced threatened by global controls.

Vocational Training: Support local initiatives that provide vocational training to prepare residents for high-demand jobs.

Notes

PEACE & SPIRITUAL LIVING

Topic Seven

Peace could be very elusive during a worldwide threat because of the stress any individual threat would create in one's life. Let alone if these threats appear in clusters or simultaneously, as often is the case. Dealing with stress is very important during times of personal relationship problems, financial, health, and survival issues. Successful stress management and remaining clear headed could make the difference in your survival.

More than stress management, maintaining your peace during a disaster could prove to be more valuable than the gold you stored to barter with. Having peace can help your family, friends, and all of those around you that are in a critical situation to survive in an abundant way.

Peace is directly associated with spirituality. If you have not considered spirituality, now would be the time to develop it while we are in a relatively peaceful time. Seeking a Higher Power for peace makes sense since when so many things will be out of your control during a worldwide threat.

Believing Jews look to the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob to bring them peace. Prophecies of the Messiah help the Jews focus on God as their victor and keeper. For Jews, their bible predicts the coming of the Messiah who will protect them and establish his forever kingdom.

GLOBALISM THREAT ACTION GUIDE

Those who know the Jesus of the Christian Bible will deal with stress completely differently than those who do not. There are several reasons for that. First, the bible is full of prophecies foretelling the birth and mission of Jesus to make peace between God and mankind in addition to his return to set up a kingdom of His peace. Jesus came and fulfilled the prophecies of his birth, death, and resurrection. Christians have a great deal of evidence that he will keep his promise to return and ultimately establish worldwide peace. The well-known Christmas prophecy hundreds of years before his birth in Isaiah 9:6 identified Jesus as the Prince of Peace. He offers that peace to you today if you but ask (John 14:27).

Prophecies are comforting and stress reducing because they come from a loving Higher Power that is communicating with his people what to expect. Prophecies for the Christian tell the nature of the times in which Jesus was, is and will be.

These shows were produced in different places in the world and primarily show how people in difficult and life-threatening situations live a life of peace and prosperity in many ways.

GLOBALISM THREAT ACTION GUIDE

To be part of the Worldwide Threat Family is to understand how to be prepared for the threats. Part of that preparation is to do your part to support the local storehouse that helps people in need, otherwise known as the local church. Both Jews and Christians know the importance of this principal from the example of Joseph in the Old Testament storing up goods in the storehouse. If you do your part to support your local church, God promises to protect the remainder of your supplies in Malachi 3:10-18. That should give you some peace as well.

If you are not walking in peace, we can help you by introducing you to Jesus and giving you free information that will help. We welcome you to contact us by phone 888-391-0354, email at info@theworldwidethreat.com or text at 828-330-4883 and we will be glad to discuss all of this.

We hope to see you next Thursday for latest instalment of the Worldwide Threat. Until then, we will leave you with one last thought. Jesus says in John 14:1-3, 27-28;

Jesus is the way to the Father

14 Jesus said to his disciples, ‘Do not be sad or afraid. Believe in God, and also believe in me. 2 There are many rooms in my Father's house. I will go now so that I can prepare a place for you there. If it was not true, I would not have told you this. 3 After I have prepared a place for you, I will return. Then I will take you so that you will be with me. You will be where I am...27 I will go away but I will give you a gift of peace. It is mine to give and yours to keep. It is not like a gift that this world gives. Do not let yourselves be sad. Do not be afraid. 28 You heard me say to you, “I will go away, but I will return to you.” (EEV)
